Call for Papers

A forum for the presentation of research and policy initiatives in the areas of education, health, public policy, and the socioeconomic causes and effects of poverty, the Journal of Children & Poverty promotes intellectual debate and new ideas that will impact policy and practice in the fields of child and family welfare. The Journal of Children & Poverty is a publication of the Routledge Taylor & Francis Group and the Institute for Children and Poverty, an independent research and policy think tank. The journal targets a cross-disciplinary audience that includes policymakers, academics, and community leaders.

SUBMISSION DETAILS

The Journal of Children & Poverty welcomes scholarly investigations of issues surrounding children and families in poverty. Please submit manuscripts to jcp@icpny.org with separate files for tables and graphs. We do not return manuscripts and subject accepted articles to editorial modifications. For more information about submitting articles to Journal of Children & Poverty please visit www.tandf.co.uk/journals/CJCP

REVIEW PROCESS

The editorial staff and two peer reviewers evaluate the anonymous articles under consideration. The Journal of Children & Poverty accepts manuscripts with the understanding that they are original works for publication solely in the Journal of Children & Poverty, and that the manuscripts submitted have not been published, nor are they under consideration for publication, elsewhere.

COPYRIGHT

It is a condition of publication that authors vest copyright in their articles, including abstracts, in the Routledge Taylor & Francis Group. This ensures full copyright protection as well as dissemination of the article and the journal to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats. Authors may use their article elsewhere after publication provided that they obtain prior permission from the Routledge Taylor & Francis Group.
